Effects of the Foot and Mouth Disease

Further discussions took place on the effects of the Foot and Mouth Disease on S4C's programme service. Specifically, it was reported that, arrangements had been made to broadcast Gwyl yr Urdd (Urdd Festival) during the week that had originally been earmarked for the Urdd Eisteddfod. It was also confirmed that the Agricultural Show at Builth Wells would not be held this year. Officers were currently discussing ideas as to what could be broadcast instead. Consideration was also being given as to what attention could be given to other agricultural shows taking place in the various Welsh counties during the year.

Promoting Digital/Analogue Switch-Off

The latest developments regarding promoting digital and analogue switch-off were discussed, especially the Government's wish to improve the terrestrial digital network and the rôle it hoped that the terrestrial broadcasters would play in accomplishing this.

Digital College

The plans and short-term needs of this service were discussed. It was noted that the Digital College would report to S4C with details of a full business plan by October 2001.

Sponsorship

The Authority considered the following requests for sponsorship:

- (a) Cardiff Communications Conference – A request for S4C to contribute £2,000 to sponsor this conference was received from its organisers. The organisers were also seeking a similar contribution from the other broadcasters in Wales. The day's programme was outlined and attention was drawn to the fact that prominent speakers had been attracted to take part. It was noted that the conference would be a public forum. It was agreed that a contribution of £2,000 should be made towards the Cardiff Communications Conference.
- (b) Mid-Wales Opera – Consideration was given to a request for S4C sponsorship towards holding 'A Feast of Opera', to include two new productions, at Newtown. Following this, the company would take one of the productions on tour and would visit a number of places throughout Wales. It was agreed that £5,000 sponsorship should be given to the Mid-Wales Opera.
- (c) Evening Dinner Reception at Cambridge RTS Convention – It was reported that S4C had sponsored a reception at this Conference in recent years. It had been a successful event and had attracted a high profile for S4C. A request for S4C to sponsor a similar event at this year's Convention had been received. That sponsorship in the sum of £4,000 should be given for this event.

Compliance

(a) Episode of Clipsen that was broadcast at 8.00 pm on 23 November 2000

(i) The Compliance Group drew the Authority's attention to an episode of the Clipsen series that was broadcast at 8.00 pm on 23 November 2000. It requested that the Authority considered whether an item in this programme was suitable for broadcast at that time of night. This item made fun of S4C programmes by referring to, and showing the covers of, (fake) pornographic videos. The Authority watched the item in question and discussed the views of the Compliance Group and those of the production company on the matter.

(ii) Agreed: That despite the light nature of the item, and fully realising it was a joke, the contents were not suitable for broadcasting during family viewing hours and Zeitgeist, the production company, had infringed S4C's compliance guidelines.

(b) Ethnic Minorities – Attention was drawn to the monitoring work being undertaken to collect information on ethnic minority representation on the screen. Reference was also made to the fact that S4C had received a copy of the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000 after the Monitoring Unit had commenced this work. The Act had public service implications for S4C. This was a matter to which S4C officers would be paying attention during the coming months.

Corporate Plan Review 2001-2003

Authority Members considered the progress made against the targets in the corporate plan during the first quarter of this year. It was noted that, to date, a substantial number of targets are being met.
